Once again we will enjoy two tune callers at our monthly concert, Dustin Retzlaf on bass and Jim Hall on drums.

Dustin Retzlaf

How many jazz bassists does it take to change a light bulb? They are all too laid back to bother to change it. As I watch Dustin perform I can understand this description's origin.

In addition to playing the bass Dustin has many interests and talents. Dustin, a Minnesotan, is a piano technician, a lumber mill entrepreneur and jazz musician with a Masters Degree in Jazz Studies.

Jim Hall

Jim Hall, a West Virginian, was given the ukulele by his parents as his first musical instrument. Then came the guitar. Finally, while in college, the drums became his instrument of choice. While at USC he formed the Palmetto Pans, a steel drum group. Jim is a USC Distinguished Emeritus Professor.

Jim has also played with the SC Philharmonic, the SC Chamber Orchestra, Columbia Lyric Opera, and Dick Goodwin's Big Band and Quintet.
